Application for an extension of the maximum funding period for the scholarship Deutschlandstipendium

The maximum duration of the Deutschlandstipendium scholarship is based on the standard period of study for the respective study programme. In the case of studies under challenging conditions, an application for an extension of the maximum duration of funding is possible in accordance with Section 7 (1) StipG as part of the follow-up application for the HNEE Deutschlandstipendium scholarship.

- Students who are currently receiving the Deutschlandstipendium and wish to apply for an extension of the maximum funding period (beyond the standard period of study) for the reasons set out below must submit this application by 1 November, together with the application for an ex officio extension (for continued funding from the summer semester onwards), or by 1 June (for continued funding from the winter semester onwards).
- Students who are applying for the Deutschlandstipendium for the first time and who, at the time of their new application, already meet the criteria listed below for an extension of the maximum funding period during the funding period, must upload this application to the relevant section on the application portal together with their application (deadline: 16 December 26).

The reasons for a possible extension are set out below and must be supported by evidence in each case.

The selection committee decides whether to approve or reject the application. Only applications received in the correct form and by the deadline can be considered.
